2. [REDACTED] Met with Mr. Robert Michaels, House Appropriations Committee staff, and scheduled a breakfast/briefing for Congressman George W. Andrews (D., Ala.) for Tuesday morning. Congressman Andrews has been tentatively designated a member of the CIA Subcommittee on Appropriations. Mr. Michaels will accompany Representative Andrews for an 8 o'clock breakfast.

Mr. Michaels wanted to bring to the Agency's attention on behalf of the Chairman the various newspaper comments on the NBC film, "The Science of Spying," and noted particularly David Lawrence's column in the Evening Star entitled, "Television Diservice to CIA," and Tom Donnelly's Washington Daily News column of the same date entitled, "Memento of 'The Dirty War'." When advised that it would be possible to provide a showing of the film for the Committee, Mr. Michaels requested, after checking with the Chairman, that a scheduling for 9 o'clock Wednesday, 12 May, be attempted for the CIA Subcommittee only.

After conferring with the Chairman on Admiral Raborn's request for the scheduling of weekly intelligence briefings of the CIA Subcommittee, Mr. Michaels advised that Thursday mornings of each week through the remainder of the session will be taken up by meetings of the full Committee and would be an impossible meeting from the Committee's point of view. For this week the intelligence briefing is scheduled tentatively for Friday, 14 May, with a time for meeting not yet considered.

3. [REDACTED] Met with Mr. William Gulledge, Staff Director, Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, and had a rather lengthy informal discussion with him on varying topics of mutual interest. Of note Mr. Gulledge was able to report that Chairman Mike Monroney (D., Okla.) has requested Mr. Gulledge's continuance in the Director's position together with his staff. The Senator's absence from the City, however, for almost the entire period since his elevation to the Chairmanship, has not allowed the formulation of a Committee legislative program for this session.
